

TAMING CORPORATE POWER

Key findings on companies and supply chains

What's wrong with the global economy?

Three-quarters

of people think the economic system favours the wealthy.

62%

of people think governments should do more to tame corporate power.

79%

of people think the minimum wage is too low for a decent life.

Our economy is dominated by the rapid growth of extensive global supply chains

60% of global trade ($20 trillion) is dependent on contracts in supply chains.

What's it like to have a job
in a supply chain?

Pay below the poverty line

Informal or temporary work

Slavery or forced labour

No guarantee of safe work

Consumers want companies
to change their ways

94%

of people want to ensure workers rights are an essential part of global trade agreements.

94%

want to strengthen international rules to make companies provide better wages and conditions.

88%

want to promote lifting the minimum wage around the world.

A close-up portrait of a woman with long, dark hair, looking slightly to the right. She is wearing a small hoop earring. The background is blurred, showing what appears to be an outdoor setting with a building. A dark grey rectangular box is overlaid on the left side of the image, containing text in white and orange.

“I send half my wages home to my mother who takes care of my five year old. I’m working for his future.”

Laarni, 30 Sewer for NY&CO

This May Day #EndCorporateGreed

END CORPORATE

GREED